

Call for Papers

Title: Horizons of Thought (II): Unveiling Concerns in Humanities and Social Sciences (Peer-reviewed edited volume with ISBN)

"Horizons of Thought (II): Unveiling Concerns in Humanities and Social Sciences" is an interdisciplinary volume that critically engages with pressing global challenges through the lens of humanities and social science disciplines. Below is a detailed breakdown of its scope, themes, and sub-themes:

1. Economics

- ✓ Global inequality, sustainable development, neoliberal policies, labour markets, post-pandemic economic recovery, and ethical frameworks for resource distribution. Any other theme of Broad field of Economy and Society.

2. Political Science

- ✓ Governance in the digital age, populism, human rights, transnational power dynamics, conflict resolution, and the ethics of policy-making in multicultural societies. Any other theme of Broad field of Political Science

3. History

- ✓ Collective memory, post-colonial legacies, historiography of marginalized communities, digital archives, and the intersection of historical narratives with modern identity politics. Any other theme of Broad field of History

4. Sociology

- ✓ Urbanization, social stratification, gender and racial identity, globalization's impact on community structures, and the sociology of technology and alienation. Any other theme of Broad field of Sociology.

5. Geography

- ✓ Climate-induced migration, spatial justice, urban-rural divides, geopolitical resource conflicts, and the role of cartography in shaping cultural narratives. Any other theme of Broad field of Geography.

6. Psychology

- ✓ Societal trauma, mental health stigma, digital wellbeing, cross-cultural perspectives on resilience, and the psychological impacts of systemic inequality. Any other theme of Broad field of Psychology.

7. Education

- ✓ Technology integration in pedagogy, equity gaps in access, decolonizing curricula, lifelong learning in automated economies, and policy reforms for inclusive education. Any other theme of Broad field of Education.

8. English/Literary Studies

- ✓ Decolonizing literary canons, digital storytelling, linguistic diversity, post-modern narratives, and the role of literature in shaping social consciousness. Any other theme of Broad field of English/Literary Studies.

Submission Guidelines

- ✓ Tentative Format: Abstracts, Introduction, Methodology, finding/results/discussion, conclusion, references.
- ✓ Word limit: 2500 -3000 words (including references).

Important Dates

- ✓ Submission Deadline: June 15, 2025 (extended)
- ✓ Expected Publication: June 2025

Contact

- ✓ +91 7896380564 (WhatsApp/Call)
- ✓ +91 7002091988 (WhatsApp/Call)

Processing Fee

1000 for single author
(+500 for each co-author,
includes separate hard copies)

Submit to: academicpublication01@gmail.com

Editors

Dr. Sangita Mahanta

Assistant Professor,
Department of Social Work, University of Science and Technology, Meghalaya

Dr. Parismita Bhagawati

Assistant Professor, BRM
Govt. Model College,
Doomdooa, Assam,
India

Dr. M. Riswan

Senior Lecturer (Gr. 1), Department of Sociology, South Eastern University of Sri Lanka

(International Editor)

Raktima Goswami

Assistant Professor,
Department of History, Khowang
College, Dibrugarh

Smriti Ghatani

Assistant Professor,
Department of Political Science,
Siliguri College, West
Bengal